

Welcome to the CanMine Operating System! Help is here!

By clicking on the question mark, you have accessed the help file for the homepage.

As with all pages, the header is at the top and serves as your menu.

Header Features:

- A. The “CanMine Operating System” title is a button that will return you to the homepage at any time.
- B. Menu dropdowns are populated based on the security level that has been assigned to you. If you would like access to more features, please contact your administrator. The menu’s available to you will likely differ from what is shown below.
- C. The icon in the right corner shows how many notifications you are responsible for and is colored according to the importance and/or urgency of the tasks.

Page Features:

- 1. This identifies who you are logged in as.
- 2. Has a logoff button.
- 3. Contains a space where notifications show up that are specific to you, your role and the responsibilities you have been assigned. The color of the notifications represents their importance and/or urgency. To navigate directly to the screen, simply click on the notification.
- 4. Access to the original sign-up screens to update information including your resume.
